TREASURY FIRE IMPERILS LIVES OF 2,500 CLERKS

Valuable Records Are Burned and Damaged by Water

DAMAGE ABOUT $30,000

Employees Leave Building Without Confusion—Huge Crowd Watches Blaze from Streets and Roofs

Washington, Feb. 9.—Fire which broke out on the roof of the Treasury building at 3.30 o'clock yesterday, followed by an explosion which threw flames into the duplicating room imperiled the lives of 2,500 government employees.

Accelerated by the explosion of a ten-gallon kerosene tank in a temporary frame structure on the roof near the center of the building, in which flames originated, and a high wind, flames were soon shooting into the air and spreading rapidly to other sections of the roof and the 40 by 80 foot tower attached to the building.

An alarm was sounded from the photostat tower immediately after the blaze began, and employes of the building were warned of the fire as the alarm sounded instanteously in the office of the captain of the watch and all sections of the four floors of the building.

As downtown companies were answering the first alarm, the 2,500 employes, mostly women, began their exodus. Without rushing or showing signs of panic the clerks left the upper floors, and under direction of members of the watch force were guided from the crowded basement floor in orderly fashion, All elevators in the building were quickly put into operation, although an hour before closing time. Within twenty minutes most of the employes had left the building.

Fire Chief Watson, who saw the smoke pouring from the building as the first alarm sounded in his office, a block away, rushed to the Treasury offices. He immediately turned in a second and a third alarm, bringing all fire companies within a radius of two miles to the scene.

Priceless records and some original plans for government buildings, used by the fifty draftsmen working in the photostat tower, were damaged or destroyed. The damage, it is believed, will total $30,000. The blaze broke through the roof into the four floor directly beneath the drafting rooms in the tower, but was quickly extinguished. Water ruined many of the records left behind in the drafting rooms, and those on the many tables in the division of construction rooms immediately beneath the blaze on the roof. Water also soaked through from the fourth floor to the third, damaging records and books in the office of the Comptroller of the Treasury in rooms 305 and 307.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon last night, however, authorized the statement that none of the drawings or other material relating to soldier hospital construction had been destroyed or damaged in the fire.

By 4:30 o'clock firemen had gained complete control of the blaze and were centering their attention on the two burned oil kegs and asphalt vessels.

Chief Clerk W. G. Platt had summoned a squad of 100 Treasury Department workmen to the scene by this time and the men were aiding in rescue work on the fourth floor in the construction division attempting to salvage the drafts and architectural plans for government buildings. Few original plans were in the rooms of the burned tower or the drafting room directly beneath where water played havoc, according to the supervising architect J. A. Wetmore.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

Washington, Feb. 9.—Vice President Coolidge was walking sedately through the Presidental suite of the Willard Hotel when his foot caught in some draperies In his vexation, he kicked the draperies, but the kick was misplaced and the Vice President's foot hit a solid wall. As a result, Mr. Coolidge was limping around today with a broken great toe. Never again he says, will he kick at draperies.

The President's reply to the invitation of the Italian government for participation in the Genoa economic conferen e has been drafted and will be forwarded to Rome Tonight. The text of it will be made public Friday afternoon after sufficient time has elapsed for the reply to be received in Rome.

It is learned definitely that the President. following unanimous decision of the Cabinet, will reject the invitation at this time, but will announce concurrence in the general aims of the conference and pledge the United States to do its best to aid in a world economic rehabilitation. However, it has been decided that the problems before the conference at this time are purely European. The feeling of this government is that nothing can be done by the United States until the European nations have settled their differences over reparations, Russia, etc. and until they have put themselves in a position to bring about an economic rehabilitation through balanced budgets, return to a gold instead of a paper money basis or at least deflate the present enormously inflated currency of Europe.

Although the various treaties resulting from the arms conference are practically certain of ratification by the Senate, it was made evident today that they will not be ratified without a fight, at least on the four-Power treaty.

Senator Borah. of Idaho, declared today that it would be a "mighty long time" before the four-Power treaty could be put through the Senate unless the administration agrees to a drastic reservation removing any possible moral or legal obligation on Con-

SUBMIT REPORT ON WHITE WAY [illegible]TAILERS

Gr[illegible] Large Number Signers to Petition

ENGINEER TO SPEAK

B. Weil Elected a Director of The Chamber of Commerce—Other Matters Disposed of by Bureau.

Reports submitted to the retail merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce last night at its meeting showed splendid progress has been made by the committee engaged in the task of obtaining signatures of the merchants for the proposed white way on King street between Fairfax and Patrick streets, a distance of seven squares.

The members of this bureau expressed considerable satisfaction over the almost spontaneous response on the part of those doing business on that street, who want the white way. Only a few more signatures remain to be obtained and the committee feels confident that the matter will be put through.

It was decided to invite City Engineer E. C. Dunn to attend the next meeting of the bureau and deliver an address regarding the city, especially in reference to his work which he will illustrate by means of a chart he has prepared.

The association elected B. Weil a director to serve for a period of two years. He is director from this bureau to the Chamber of Commerce.

A report was received from the general manager of the Washington Virginia Railway Company in reference to complaint filed some time ago about cold cars and he explained the cause of the trouble which he said has been remedied.

Reports of interest from a number of committees were submitted and acted on and considerable business of a routine nature also was disposed of.

Miss Rosella Burke and Miss Louise Griffith left today to attend the mid-winter dances at the University of Virginia.

MAN'S DEATH UNAVOIDABLE JURY VERDICT

Body of Man Struck by Train Yesterday Unidentified

3 TESTIFY AT PROBE

Engineer Bostwick Tells Jury That After he Sounded Whistle Stranger Got Between Tracks.

After hearing the testimony of three witnesses a coroners jury summoned by Dr. T. H. Jones which men last night at Demaine's mortuary chapel to investigate the circumstances attending the death of an unidentified man who was struck and killed by a Southern Railway train yesterday morning gave a verdict to the effect that he came to his death by being struck by passenger train No. 135 at 8:40 o'clock the morning of February 8 in Fairfax county, and the jury set forth that it was its opinion that the accident was an unavoidable one.

The jury was composed of Thomas Chauncey, foreman, Silas Devers, H. Friedlander. W. H. Thomas. J. W. Wyne and F. W. Deeton. Engineer W. M. Bostwick testified that he saw the man walking and he sounded his whistle several times and as he did the man walked directly on the track instead of getting off. He applied his air and stopped his train but it was too late. It was the first time in ninteen years he said he had failed to get a person off the track by the sound of his whistle.

Charles A. Vickers, fireman of the train, testified he heard the engineer blow the whistle and when the train was stoped and he got off the man was apparently lifeless.

William H. Session. trackwalker for the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad, said that a few minutes before the accident he met the man near Roberts' Crossing and the man was going south, and upon seeing the stranger remarked, "It is pretty sharp this morning," The man said he was walking on the right hand side beside the ties of the southbound track.

As heretofore stated the man is about forty years old, weight between 175 and 180 pounds and had light hair mixed with gray. His blue pin striped suit bears the name "Muse, Tailors, Atlanta, Georgia and his dark velour hat is marked "Corning's southeast corner of 5th and Central Avenue, Cincinnati, O. His hat number is 7 1-8 and his linen bears the mark T. X. I. X." He wore low quarterd russett shoes and his overcoat or mackinaw is a gray plaid. He also wore a polkadot tie and black belt. One upper tooth is filled with gold. There were no papers of any description by which he could be indentified. The exact amount of money he had was $16.42. In addition he had a morning newspaper and a diamond ring and diamond set locket.

A number of persons have called at the undertaking parlors seeking missing persons but up to this afternoon the man had not been identified. Untaker Demaine stated today that the body had been embalmed and he will hold it several days hoping it will be identified.

The man's hand indicated that he had never done manuel labor and his general appearance was that of a man who had never engaged in any laboring work.

NEW ZEALAND HAD 100,000 MEN IN WAR

Miss Scanlon Tells Cameron Club of War Activities of That Country

She Says The Peace Treaty Means Everything to the Prosperity Of New Zealand

Yesterday the address at Lee Camp Hall made another Red Letted Day in the record of the Cameron Club. The Hall was filled with a most interested and attentive audience and Miss Scanlon with her beautiful voice and most perfect English drew one word picture after another of far-away New Zealand. One saw its snow-capped mountains, its wonderful rivers, its numerous towns and its four large cities. She gave us glimpses of its great love and loyalty to the Mother Country "Christ Church being more English than England," and although Christmas always comes in the hottest part of the year, the Christmas dinner of Turkey is offered as faithful as in Merrie England. In maintaining old customs the love for England is kept green and when the great trial came the war put every nation to the test New Zealand sent more than her proportion of her sons. 100 000 of them joined with Australia in that fateful expedition to Gallipoli. Afterwards they went to France, but no matter how many fell. 100,000 men from New Zealand were always replaced at the front.

The returned soldiers and those who suffered from the loss of their men in the war have been the especial charge of New Zealand since the armistice and their devotion to the country has been substantially repaid as a gratefulu country should.

New Zealanders are British, heart and soul and though they entered cheerfully into the war they are more than eager for peace and this proposed plan of a 10 year peace in the Pacific means everything for the prosperity to New Zealand.

Having Miss Scanlon with us was a great honor conferred upon the Cameron Club for she took time from the multiplicity of her official and social duties to give us pleasure and one benefit derived from the Peace Conference, a by-product as it were, is the establishing a most cordial relation among the women folks of those who sit in the seats of the mighty.

Bible Thought for Today

Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all.—1 Chronicles 29: 11.

ANNUAL OUTLAY FOR BONUS IS ESTIMATED

$350,000,000 Is Tentative Figure Given by Committee

SOURCES A PROBLEM

Will be Discussed Today—Suggestions Are Plentiful But None so Far Decided Upon.

Washington, Feb. 9.—A tentative estimate of $350,000,000 yearly as the amount of special taxes that must be laid to finance the cash feature of the proposed soldier bonus legislation was made yesterday at an executive session of majority members of the House Ways and Means Committee.

The exact amount that is to be determined upon and the sources from which it must come will be taken up tomorrow by a subcommittee headed by Chairman Fordney.

Committeemen said it was not the intnetion to rely upon any part either of the interest or principle of the British or other foreign debts in connection with the bonus. They said that something around $350,000,000 a year would take care of the cash payments to be made over the two and one-half year period beginning January, 1923, and that the finding of definite and certain sources from which to obtain this amount was their immediate concern.

The $350,000,000 estimate, it was explained, was made on the basis of figures presented at public hearings by fiscal officers of the army, navy and marine corps. These figures contemplated 50 per cent. of the men who served with the army and 75 per cent. of those who served with the navy and marine corps electing to take cash. This figure may be revised as the subcommittee studies the matter.

The first question before the tax subcommittee will be that of deciding whether the total amount of tax revenue is to come from a limited group of sources or whether the taxes will be spread over a wide field so as to make the burden as light as possible on those who have to pay. It was said that there were two schools of thought in the committee on this question. Some members emphasied that it would be the purpose to so arrange the tax program as to interefer as little as possible with the recovery of business.

TO HALT RAIDS ON ULSTER IS BRITAIN'S MOVE

Orders Commander of Troops to Assist In Defense of Boundary

DEMANDS ON DUBLIN

Must Free Prominent Unionists Kidnapped by Southern Irish Marauding Bands, Says Premier.

London, Feb. 9.—The Government yesterday telegraphed the Provisional Government of Ireland asking it to secure the release of the Ulster and Unionist constables taken across the border by raiding bands of Southern Irish. The Government also telegraphed the commander of the British troops in Ireland asking that he give the Northern Government all aid necessary in the defense of the Northern Ireland boundary, and not to hesitate to ask for reinforcements if he found them necessary.

Austin Chamberlain. the Government leader, made the above announcements in the House of Commons last night. He said that on receipt of a telephone message from Colonel Spender, Secretary of the Ulster cabinet, on behalf of Sir James Craig, the Premier, detailing the kidnapping of the Unionists and Ulsterites, the members of the Government here met and decided to send a telegram to the general commanding the troops in Ireland, and to Michael Collins, as head of the Provisional Government.

Sir Austin added that they had called upon the government to release the prisoners taken across the border. The troops in Northern Ireland, he said will act in supoort of the civil authorities and in defense of the existing frontier until a new one is established, whenever the government of Northern Ireland asks their assistance.

The telegram to Michael Collins repeated the information from Colonel Spender, and added: "If anything approximating this has happened. His Majesty's Government takes the gravest view of the situation. Such acts are a breach of the truce and gravely imperil the treaty. They will be glad to hear at once from you if you are taking immediate steps to insure the release of the prisoners and provide against any recurrence of these grave outrages."

Mr. Chamberlain also gave notice that he would introduce a bill today to give effect to the Irish agreement.

Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, who has been in consultation with Cabinet members here, will leave today for Dublin.

SUSPECT FOUL PLAY IN DEATH OF MISS JONES

Valuable Jewelry and $75 and Luggage Are Missing

DID NOT GO TO COUNTY

Police Here and Arlington County Authorities Working on Case—Funeral Services Tomorrow Afternoon

That Miss Alma Hullings Jones, twenty-six years old, whose body was found last Monday in the Potomac, may have been the victim of foul play is the opinion of relatives of the dead woman in this city.

They point out that when she left home shortly after 10 o'clock Friday morning January 27, she had in her possession a pocketbook containing about $75 and in addition had considerable jewelry and a suit case and all of which is missing. The members of the family were unable to place any value on the jewelry. Her jewelry it is stated, consisted of an emerald set dinner ring, a fraternity pin, a string of pearls, and a gold locket. In addition to her jewelry she carried a manicuring set and a new dress and other articles of clothing. together with a pocketbook. All of these things are missing and this convinces the family that she probably was the victim of foul play. The family was unable to place the value of the jewelry.

It was learned today that Miss Jones after leaving home went to the corner of Cameron and Payne streets and purchasd a ticket for Washington from the agent Miss M. A. Shinn, on duty at that place. Had she originally planned to visit Mrs. Ruby Grogan at Cherrydale, Arlington County, under oridinary circumstances she would have procured a ticket for Cherrydale and detrained at Arlington Junction and caught a Falls Church car for Cherrydale.

However, the family stated today that she obtained the round trip ticket for Washington, evidentally having changed her plans for making a direct trip. After arriving in Washington, however, she could have boarded a Georgetown car and gotten off at Aqueduct bridge and gone to Georgetown.

The family, however, learned that Miss Jones never visited Mrs. Grogan as originally planned, and Mrs. Grogan had expected her and was at a loss to understand why she failed to put in her appearance. Mrs. Grogan this afternoon visited the family and explained that Miss Jones never visited her.

Sheriff Clements stated this morning that he is running down various clews furnished and making a complete investigation of the case. He says that it looks to him as if Miss Jones was a victim of foul play.

The funeral of Miss Jones will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from Wheatley's mortuary chapel. Services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

An examination of the body at the District morgue by Washington authorities showed indications of a struggle. In an autopsy a specimen of the stomach was taken for analysis. Officials hope to determine whether drugs were used to overpower the girl in this manner. The report of the analysis, according to officials, will be completed within two or three days. Police are endeavoring to locate the trolley crew to learn whether Miss Jones got off the car at Clarendon.

Sheriff Clements, of Arlington county, Chief of Police Goods and Policeman Durrer today are running down all clews available regarding the young woman and interrogating a number of persons, and in their work they are receiving the co-operation of the Washiigton police department.

If Miss Jones was a victim of foul play no stone will be left unturned to apprehend her assailant and it was reported this afternoon that considerable progress had been made by the investigators.

WOODROW WILSON FOUNDATION

The GAZETTE has already expressed its endorsement of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation. The committee in charge of the matter in Alexandria have received the appropriate literature and subscription blanks and are now ready to begin active work. The Citizens National Bank, the banking house of Burke and Herbert, and the GAZETTE office, are all in possession of receipt blanks and will issue same, filled out and receipted, with a stub to the subscriber which entitles him or her to an engraved certificate of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation, stating that he or she is a founder of the Woodrow Wilson Award. This being mailed to the main office in New York City, will bring the certificate in a reasonable time.

One of our prominent neighbors in an adjoining county, although an admirer of Woodrow Wilson, has made public the statement that Mr. Wilson's fame is already secure in history, and that any attempt to bolster it now, would, in his opinion be both superfluous and premature.

We beg to differ with the gentleman. Instead of waiting till the death of our distinguished fellow-citizen who shaped the destinies of this nation, and, we believe, the world—to erect to him statues and monuments of marble, it is far more fitting and appreciative to consecrate his memory while living.

That he became a martyr to the cause of liberty, that he more than sacrificed his life to the cause of peace among the peoples and the nations of the world—even his enemies dare not dispute. The Foundation is a timely and not a tardy tribute to the great American whose birthplace was the hallowed soil of Virginia. The name of Wilson is but added to the illustrious names that have rendered the Old Dominion glorious in the annals of human freedom. The purpose of the memorial is to extend recognition to all those of our citizens whose service to the country is conspicuous, and who carry on the ideals and principles of the country's leader in the world's most crucial war. From the income of the Foundation, whose principal is fixed at a million dollars or more, the awards will be granted for distinguished public service.

Every Virginian should have a framed certificate in his possession as a tribute to his own patriotism and civic pride. It is really a duty as well as a privilege to put one's name on the roll of honor. Woodrow Wilson has well earned this testimonial of affection and esteem at the hands of his fellow-countrymen, and it will doubtless gladden the declining years of one who made the supreme sacrifice for liberty and justice to the peoples of the world.

The GAZETTE will be happy to furnish any further information, and to give necessary receipt entitling the subscriber to the Founder's Certificate.

POLICEWOMAN ON FORCE

The suggestion the other night as to a policewoman on the Alexandria police force meets with the approval of the GAZETTE. This is the custom in the most progressive of our modern cities, and its advisability has been proved beyond a doubt. There are many instances where a woman officer can perform police duty far more efficiently than a man. There are instances, too, where a life may be saved instead of wrecked. We hope the matter will not be lost sight of, and that the city may soon have the benefit of the services of a woman in this capacity.

PROHIBITION FIGURES

Bristol, Va., Feb. 7.—"In my judgment," said Federal Prohibition Commisisoner Haynes last night in an address before the Bristol Chamber of Commerce," the most serious task we have right now is to arouse the apathetic citizen and to disillusion a lot of perfectly good people, who have been inoculated with a great mass of popular misconception and misinformation. In other words, they have been accepting in toto, the clever, wet, unpatriotic, false propaganda that has as its object the delusion of the American people into the belief that the Prohibition law is a failure; that it is unpopular—that it was "slipped over" on them—that it is not being enforced, and that it can not be enforced. And today, there are in actual existence, my friends, 30 paid organizations striving night and day not only to accomplish the impossible feat of causing the repeal of the 18th Amendment, but striving to accomplish these things that I have been telling you about,—to instill into the minds of Americans these false doctrines, striving to accomplish the Amendment's nullification, trying to stabilize a condition of nullification, and to cause the American people to lower their standard of regard for the sanctity and majesty of law.

"The real antidote for all of this wet propaganda, friends, is facts:—facts as they are, plain facts, unadorned facts, undoctored facts. The propagandists put in capital letters the liquor imported into our country. We simply take the facts. The facts show that the total known importation during the last fiscal year was one half of one per cent of the total consumption of liquor in America the year before Prohibition. They tell the country that crimes are increasing and that the Prohibition law is the cause. We point to world conditions and show that the crime wave is world wide, and that the crime wave in America is but the reflex. We show that arrests for drunkenness have decerased 60 per cnt in dry America, and that convictions for drunkenness increased in about the same proportion in wet England. That two conditions exist at the same time does not prove that they are related to each other's cause and effect. It is just as logical to charge that the crime wave is the result of Woman Suffrage as to say that it is caused by the adoption of the Prohibition law. We show that in the United States during the montn of October, just past, liquor withdrawals were only 50 per cent of the liquor withdrawn in the month of October of last year. We show that whisky withdrawals by wholesale druggists in New York for the months of September and October just past totaled less than 4 per cent of such withdrawals as compared with June and July last. We show that in the New York office under the reorganization the volume of routine business passing through the Permit Section has been reduced 66 2-3 per cent, indicating that real, sincere, conscientious efforts to weed out illegitimate business can succeed. The fact of the matter is, such facts constitute about all the argument that sincere, sensible people need to see that good progress is being made in a gigantic task. This is a new law. 100 per cent enforcement is not expected. Can you recall 100 per cent enforcement of any law, regardless of how long it has been operative? Yet those who are trying to cloud the issued give no credit to the fact that relatively great progress is being made.

"To the propaganda that prohibition does not prohibit and is a failure we simply point to a few facts which illustrate the effective operation of this law.

"There were 2,548 criminal cases involving violations of the National Prohibition Act pending in the Federal courts at the beginning of the fiscal year. There were 10,365 criminal cases involving violations of said Act pending at the end of the fiscal year. There were 29,114 criminal prosecutions commenced during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921, (indictments under the National Prohibition Act and 3,287 under Internal Revenue. There were 17,962 convictions under the National Prohibition Act during the fiscal year and 4,153 under Internal Revenue. There were 755 acquittals under the Prohibition Act and 533 under Internal Revenue.

"Every unbiased, unprejudiced, observing man and woman in America, if he or she takes the time to do a little investigating and thinking, must know that remarkable progress is actually being made in the enforcement of this law. It must be remembered that America is being weaned and the weaning period is always troublesome but necessary for the welfare of the individual.

"That observance of the law more easily becomes a custom than the breaking of the law.

"That lawlessness in any community will last just as long as the community will stand for it. The saloon brought on its own doom, so will boot legging and other flagrant violations.

"No decent American community long tolerates a nuisance. A definite nuisance soon spells it own doom.

WHAT SHALL I DO WITH THEM?

Give them away—throw them away—sell them to old shoe dealers? Not a bit of it, dear lady. Bring them here and watch us transform those old, dilapidated, shapeless, apparently useless shoes into the finest looking footwear you ever saw. Don't believe we can do it? It will cost you nothing if we don't prove it to you.

CETINJE'S MOURNING FLAG

When King Peter of Montenegro died last summer, there was a great flurry in Cetinje, one of the largest and busiest cities in that little country. The flurry was due to the fact that there were no mourning flags in the town. When a great man dies in Montenegro, black flags are hung out everywhere. The news of the death of King Peter reached Cetinje early in the morning and the officials held a hurried consultation over the fact that there was not a black flag to be had in the town. Then someone suggested that a call be made upon the representative of the Junior American Red Cross; he was a genius at suggesting ways out of difficulties. The town officials immediately marched to the residence of the Red Cross man and made it clear to him how badly they needed a black flag for mourning purposes He wracked his brain and was about to say he could offer no help when he thought of some relief supplies and clothing in the American Red Cross warehouse. In one of the boxes were some black petticoats, th only black thing in the place. He hurridly procured one of the garments, it was ripped apart, cut and shaped and within a very short space of time, Cetinje's mourning flag was swinging over the main street.

Editor Gazette:

The city has forgotten the streets in the northwest section of Alexandria. After passing the corner of Payne and Queen streets, you need a boat or flying machine. If a fire should break out I am sure the fire apparatus could not get to it. There are absolutely no sidewalks between Queen and Princss street on Payne. No sidewalks on Princess between Henry and West streets.

I had notice from the city engineer to repair certain number of days in front of piece of property down town which had a few low bricks. I can not see why same arrangements can not be made to improve conditions in this section. We have to pay our taxes, but must say we do not receive much in return. It isn't because of the recent snow as to the conditions. They have been growing worse for the past six to eight years. The people of this section would greatly appreciate a little something done to the streets and sidewalks if not so much could be done. Ask some one which is the best way to get on North Peyton street from King street, what will he say?

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

A Banker Points Out Great Danger of Carelessness

Being Right in Your Selection of Councilmen is the Biggest Problem at Present

Upon the subject of Greater Alexandria one of the leading bankers of this city says that what the city needs above everything else is to be able to put those in City Council that are really fit to be there—morally fit and mentally fit. His complete statement follows—

"Several years ago the city manager form of municipal government was defeated in favor of the present form by a very small majority—about ten votes. The fight against the proposed new government was led by those who were then in the city council. They won. They were given a real chance to show to the city what they could do. But instead of picking a new line along which to work, they stuck to the time honored traditions of their forefathers and the conditions did not grow better. City government travelled in the same old ruts, which grew deeper with each new time they were used. The citizens grew disgusted and asked for another form of government. Then—

"The same ones who had led the fight against the new government in the first battle came to the front again and asserted themselves. This time the people saw the new government in a better light and realized the benefits to be derived from it. Naturally they passed it last year with a large majority. Now we have what we want and we must not allow this proposition to fall through. Again there is to be a fight.

"Those who so bitterly opposed the plan are now, it is understood, contemplating running for the position of the new councilmen. What will the acquisition of the new form of government profit us if we allow the same men as before to run it.

"The present council has been given its chance to make good and has failed in its purpose, so the logical thing to do is to begin this new government with a firm foundation and put into it men who are really fit. Politics must be left entirely out of local government and the fitness of the man must take its place. We have thrown off the yoke of politics and we must keep ourselves rid of it we are to succeed as a city. A man must be a non-partisan to be of any value in an official position in a city.

"A man, to be a member of our legislative body, should be morally fit—must have a strong sense of duty, both to himself and to the city. He should be a progressive man. He should be an impartial man and just. He should be a successful man—for if a man who has not been successful in his own business cannot be expected to have success in the direction of such an unwieldy thing as a city. His mind should be of such a nature that he may be able to see all angles of an issue. And last, but as usual, very important, he should have been a strong supporter of the system of government under which we will soon be living.

"Personally I think that if we choose the right men for these positions of government the Greater Alexandria we all dream of so fondly will have come infinitely nearer to realization."

Petersburg—It cost Petersburg less than $900 to clean the snow from the streets, according to City Manager Louis Brownlow. The accumulation was removed in almost record time. To be exact, the municipality spent $850 in the undertaking, less than one third what several unofficial estimates claimed it would be. Added to the cost were the salaries of men and the cost of wagons, but these would have been on the payroll anyway, although engaged in other work. The street cleaning department is being commended on every side for its facility and thoroughness.

MOONSHINE MADNESS

Washington, Feb. 7.—Commissioner Haynes' repeated warnings as to the poisonous character of liquor distributed by bootleggers, coupled with similar warnings by various state directors, according to reports reaching Prohibition headquarters, have caused several state attorneys and other prosecuting officials in different sections of the country to take drastic action, in some instances citing manufacturers and peddlers of the stuff on murder and manslaughter charges.

The supply of real liquor having been cut off at the source by authorities, bootleggers resorted to their own devices, with appalling results, over a dozen deaths being reported during the past month at New York, also as many deaths at Chicago, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and other cities.

Official records of such poisonings are not available, but from reports from directors, agents and others, instances of liquor poisonings have been recorded as follows:

As a direct result of a "moonshine party" held in Aberdeen, South Dakota, early in January, by four young people, two girls are dead, one aged 17 and the other 19.

Moonshine is blamed for the deaths of Ben Rubottom and two brothers, whose bodies were found in the streets of Williamsville, Missouri.

Kings County Hospital, New York, reports 842 patients admitted in 1921 for treatment of alcoholic poisoning. Most of the cases were attributed to the kind of liquors now being put on the market. "The percentage of deaths," said Dr. Mortimer D. Jones of that institution, "is about the same. But even though the patients escape death, they are much sicker than alcoholics used to make them before prohibition. They are slower in recovering and the after effects are much worse."

The body of David Rogan, an ex-service man of New Castle, Pa., was found in a shack not far from Martin's Ferry, Ohio, following a New Year's party. Two or three of his companions were made ill by the liquid refreshments served at the party.

Two Hoboken bartenders died Saturday night, January 21st, in St. Mary's Hospital, Hoboken, from wood alcohol poisoning. Both were stricken blind before being removed to the hospital. Two weeks previous there were 10 deaths in Hoboken and one in Jersey City from wood alcohol poisoning.

A man was seen staggering at 125th Street and Broadway New York City, by a policeman of that city, and before he could be reached, fell unconscious. His death, after vain efforts to give relief at Reception Hospital, was ascribed to wood alcohol poisoning.

Carleton Carpenter and wife, who were married Christmas Day at New Goshen, Indiana, were found January 14th in a rooming house at Terre Haute, Indiana, dead from drinking poisonous moonshine whisky.

Two brothers, Frank and John Tiffany, of New York City, died on December 27th, as the result of having consumed a portion of a half pint of supposed Christmas whisky.

At Tarentum, Pa., at least ten men were reported early in January as suffering from either full or partial paralysis as a result of drinking liquor made of poisonous ingredients or home brew.

In West Virginia a man was found in a park in an unconscious condition, and was taken to a hospital where it was reported he could not probably live. Besides him was found a quart of denatured alcohol, from which about one half pint had been taken out. The bottle was plainly labeled "poison" and bore the customary warning as to the danger of its use for either external or internal application to human or animal tissues.

In Oklahoma one Bill Keaton, of Hartshorne lost the power of speech through drinking supposed corn whisky.

Whiskey properly aged and re-distilled was responsible, according to reports, for the death of four in Allegheny County, Pa., during the Christmas season.

Bootleggers in the vicinity of the New York Navy Yard in Brooklyn, early in December, caused the serious poisoning of ten seamen, and the death of Thomas J. Smith, a third class fireman of the receiving ship Pueblo.

QUEER CHRISTMAS CUSTOMS

An old fashioned Montenegrin Christmas celebration given last December, the first the children had enjoyed for years, brought happiness to the boys and girls in Danilovgrad and Podgoritza. The Industrial Home School in Danilovgrad and the Home School in Podgoritza are aided by the Junior American Red Cross whose representative thus tells of the way Christmas was observed in that far away land:

"We based our program for Christmas Eve upon the old Jugo-Slavic custom of the Bandjak log. Two days before Christmas the boys went to the woods and cut the two large logs. These they encircled with sprigs of bay leaves, rosemary and olive. A row of straw was placed around the main building and the decorated logs were rested against each side of the entrance to bring prosperity and happiness during the next year. Early in the following afternoon the boys gave their entertainment for which they were trained by the teachers. In this program was developed the "Motifs" indicated in the Montenegrin customs, in particular the beauty and bounty of nature, the love of home and the Christmas message of peace and good will.

"The entire school joined in the kolas and songs. One of teh teachers played the kolas on the piano, but accompaniments were hardly necessary as the children of Jugio-Slavia are enthusiastic group singers. A Jugo-Slavic fairy tale, "Sir Peppercorn," was quite cleverly acted.

"After entertaining their guests for about an hour, the boys filed out doors in two lines, marching to the entrance where each leader grasped one of the logs. The logs were then carried into the house and placed on an open fire, and a little wheat, olive, oil and wine were thrown over them —a sacrifice for a bountiful harvest. Then, joining hands, the lads marched singing through each room of the house. As they passed out into the yard again the Christmas boxes sent to them by the school children of America were distributed."

A report from the Podgoritza Home School states: "Our progarm started with a health play for children, "The Wonderful Window,' the characters, sixteen in all—fifteen girls and one boy—were well presented. The costumes were beautiful and unless one had the privilege of actually seeing the children during a session of trying on, altering, rearranging and choosing suitable colors for the pretty flower dresses—for there were six little girls in the 'Wonderful Window' dressed as flowers—it is impossible to have a mental picture of their tense delight. Then twelve of the most graceful little girls enacted a garland drill and a baton dance, the garlands and batons being made of boughs of trees. Two of the very small girls danced the native kola. The costumes for these two youngsters were a revelation, two pretty little dresses having been made of striped pajamas sent across the ocean so many months ago for another purpose. The boys, eight of them, gave a military drill, directed by one of their number who had been chosen for captain. They carried Jugo-Slav flags. These same boys also gave a very fine exhibition of athletics and gymnastics. Individual recitations were given by three boys and to girls. It is hard to describe the uncontrollable joy of the children.

"As a grand finale to our Christmas program there was held a Tombola for the distribution of the Christmas boxes that came from America."

DOCTOR ORDERED WOMAN OBEYED

Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and is Now Well

Chicago, Illinois.—"You surely gave women one good medicine when you put Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on the market. After I had my baby I was all run down and so nervous it kept me from gaining. My doctor did everything he could to build me up, then he ordered me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with his medicine and I am now a new woman. I have had three children and they are all Lydia E. Pinkham babies. I have recommended your medicine to several friends and they speak highly of it. You are certainly doing good work in this world."—Mrs. Adrith Tomsheck, 10557 Wabash Ave., Chicago, Illinois.

There is nothing very strange about the doctor directing Mrs. Tomsheck to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. There are many physicians who do recommend it and highly appreciate its value.

Women who are nervous, run down, and suffering from women's ailments should give this well-known root and herb medicine a trial. Mrs. Tomsheck's experience should guide you towards health.

THEY DIDN'T FORGET

Two Junior Red Cross members were preparing to move with their parents to another State. Their school was to collect toys to be distributed among needy children at home and abroad and these two Juniors were determined to do their part in this work. While preparing for their move, they collected toys and clothing which they took to school just before their departure. Isn't it fine to be so thoughtful?

Jones, 68 years old and unmarried, who died from complications, is understood to have left a comfortable fortune, the salaries of a lifetime accumulated in a small grocery store he kept in a room at his home. TUESDAY, FEB. 8, 1814

The power of Napoleon is gone, and the deliverance of Europe is arrived—The rod of the oppressor is broken, and his yoke has departed from the people—His violence has "stirred up the chief ones of the earth and raised up from their thrones all the Kings of the Nations against him." They have taken up the proverb of the redeemed of old and say to their oppressor:

"How are thou fallen from Heaven, O Lucifer, Son of the Morning! How art thou cut down to the ground, which did weaken the nations.

"For thou hast said in thine heart, I will exalt my throne above the stars of God:I will sit upon the mount of the congregation in the sides of the North. "I will assend above the heights of the clouds: I will be like the most high—"yet thou shall be brought down to Hell; to the sides of the Pit."

They that see thee shall narrowly look upon thee, saying—Is this the man that made the earth to tremble, that did shake kingdoms: — That made the world as a wilderness, and destroyed the cities thereof: that opened not the house of his prisoners?

Newport News—The Standard Oil tanker, F. D. Asche, now being repaired at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, came from New York to Newport News without the semblance of a bottom. Part of it she left on the rocks off the Bahaman and the remainder she left in New York, where she had been drydocked.

call of the chairman.

Dr. Pierre Hudicourt, of Port au Prince, continuing his protest before the investigating committee against intreference in the affairs of Haiti bv the United States, declared this country had "destroyed Haitian freedom" and had "imposed despotism and terror."

House

Met at noon and adjourned at 4:48 p. m., until noon today.

Considered calendar Wednesday business.

The appropriations committee reported the Interior Department appropriation bill, carrying $295,622,112, or $19,573,037 less than the amount appproprlated for the current fiscal year and $3,754,920 less than the amount requested in the budget estimates.

The ways and means committee in executive session discussd the advisability of raising revenue for the soldier bonus by taxes on transfers of stocks and bonds, transfers of real estate, gasoline, automobile horsepower, tobacco, bank checks or increased letter postage.

Chairman Butler, of the naval affairs committee announced that the advisability of reducing the enlisted personnel of the navy as a result of the agreements reached at the Wash ington conference will be considered at hearings beginning Monday.

Before the military affairs committeee Secretary Weeks, as the first witness to appear on the proposal of Henry Ford to take over the Muscle Shoals, Ala., nitrate plant, told members he intended to forward to Congress two other offers for the great government power plant, but he did not disclose the nature of the additional offers.

The War Secretary expressed opposition to any attempt on the part of the government to enter into the manufacture of fertilizer, but said there should be a guarantee that fertilizer should be manufactured at Muscle Shoals during the life of any contract entered into.

Representative Fitzgerald, of Ohio, filed a favorable report on the bill providing compulsory insurance for the benefit of employes injured in private employment in the District of Columbia or for the benefit of the dependents of such as are killed.

Recogniiton of the present administration in Mexico by the government of the United States is called for in a resolution introduced in the House bv Representative Thomas J. Ryan (Republican), New York. The resolution was referred to the House foreign affairs comittee.

Congressional investigation of the transfer last November of 133 idle Shipping Board vessels from Jamaica bay to Stony Point, on the Hudson, at an expense of $2,000,000 was demanded in a resolution by Representative Kindred (Democrat), New York.

Urging that $15,000,000 be appropriated at once for construction of additional hospitals for war veterans, Director Forbes, of the veterans' bureau, told the public buildings committee the United States had not done justice to disabled service men.

gress to use force in advoiding Pacific disputes, even though a conference of the powers may decide, provided for in the treaty, on the use of force to meet some particular exigency.

It is the present plan of the Senate leaders to put the naval treaty through the Senate first and then follow it with the four-Power treaty, the poison gas treaty and the two Chinese treaties in turn.

The hand of Senator Uuderwood, of Alabama, Democratic leader, is being strenghtened every day by Democratic Senators who are assuring him they will follow his leadership in voting for the treaties.

With the closing of the sessions of the conference on the limitation of armaments and Pacific and Far Eastern questions it is understood that Secretary of State Hughes is preparing to take a much needed rest. The Secretary of State is the only member of the President's official family who has not had a single day's vacation since the inauguration. He has worked night and day before and during the meeting of the conference and although he appears to be in robust health, his friends are advising him to lay off from his official duties for a spell. He may go to Bermuda, where his daughter is at present visiting.

A deficit is staring officials of State department in the face as a result of the Arms Conference. Congress only appropriated $200,000 for defraying the expenses of the conference. At the time Uuder Secretary of State Fletcher went before the House of Appropriations Committee he estimated that the conference would last about three months. He declared then that the money set aside by Congress for the conference deliberations would not be sufficient to meet all expenditures, pointing out that no estimate could be made of the amount of printing that would have to be done together with its cost.

The very last act of the conference was to direct the Secretary General to have printed all the minutes of the conference and to distribute copies of these documents to each of the foreign delegates. This work will entail a considerable expenditure of money and the State Department officials are now worrying where it is to come from. They have a small sum credited to the contingent fund of the Department, but if this were used up in any such way it might prove embarrassing to the government if an emergency should arise necessitating the expenditure of money on one account or another.

Hurry Mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup" and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today may prevent a sick child tomorrow. If constinated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is often all that is necessary.

Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.
